The first floor from basement is given entirely to office and salesrooms.

HOW KING MANTELS ARE MADE

KING MANTELS are made from facilities unsurpassed. Their home is located in the finest belt of hardwood timber in the United States and in this same radius is found the coal that is used in the factory where they are made, two important factors in producing best mantels at lowest cost.

MATERIAL In the manufacture of our mantels we use only the most select stock of lumber and, on account of the greater volume of our output, have advantages that are impossible with small factories and others not so favorably located. In addition to owning a large sawmill of our own, we have contracts with a number of mills for their entire output of strictly high grade lumber, especially selected by thoroughly competent men. This lumber, after being air-dried, not less than twelve months, is put through the most thorough and scientific dry kilns, so that when it comes out it is then in proper shape for the machine department.

WORKMANSHIP The lumber is then taken charge of by our cabinet men, who are of long years' experience, especially skilled in the manufacture of mantels, thereby insuring perfect joints and mitres and an absolutely smooth surface, the most essential thing for the high grade finish for which KING MANTELS have so long been noted.

In connection with cabinet department is the carving department where the artistic ideas of our designers are most faithfully reproduced under the master stroke of the chisel and mallet.

F I N I S H While KING MANTELS have a well established reputation for finish, which perhaps requires no comment, it may be of interest to our patrons to know how the splendid results are produced. The first step is to stain the mantel, for which purpose we use a special imported stain, the benefit of which is not at first apparent to our customers, as the cheaper kinds look just as well to start with but, like the cheaply finished photograph, the mantel finished with the other stain soon loses its brilliancy and tone, whereas ours is permanent.

After the mantel is stained, it is carefully filled, particular care being taken to rub the filler deep into the pores of the wood. This, like the foundation of a house, is a very important process but one that by many is often neglected. After being filled, the mantel is sandpapered carefully and is then thoroughly cleansed of dust particles with compressed air and sent to the finishing room, which is dustproof. There it receives the first coat of varnish which we have especially prepared for this purpose. It then goes through the same process for the additional coats, which vary from three to five, owing to the style of the mantel.

If the mantels are extra gloss finish, they are then ready for shipment, but if of the high grade piano polish, they are taken to the polishing department where, after being first rubbed with pumice stone and water, the wood is then cleansed of all particles of pumice stone and the mantels set aside to dry. After being allowed to stand for two or three days, they are then carefully rubbed with rotten stone and our own make of polish, which not only gives them a very brilliant surface, bringing out all the beautiful effects of the wood, but a finish that is a credit to the makers and will stand the test of time.

RESULT AND GUARANTEE From log to finished mantel, our work bears the severest inspection and, after being prepared for shipment, it is sent out under the guarantee that, if not entirely as represented or even better, your money back without question and we to pay the freight both ways.

Selected Oak.

This base is made of carefully selected oak, well finished and is intended to fit flat against the wall, the projection mentioned being merely a ¾-inch strip at back which is provided in case tiles are to be used. The length of shelf is 4 feet and where the mantel is wanted 4 feet 6 inches, the extension is made by wall plates as is shown in cut. Made only in these two sizes. For tenement houses and cheap cottages, this certainly fills the bill.

KNOX UNMOUNTED GRATES

WITH REGULAR SUMMER FRONT

WITH "ELK" SUMMER FRONT

Outside dimensions, 24½ inches wide, 30¼ inches high. Size of grate, 20 inches. Summer Front of Heavy Sheet Steel and made in three handsome designs. (See Mantel No. 454, page 21, for third design.) If any preference so state when ordering.

For open view of grate, see page 23.

Some "Grate" Points to Consider.

First: You want a good heater.

Second: You want a grate that is perfectly clean in every respect, one that has good combustion, will burn the coal entirely to ashes and leave no clinkers or cinders.

Third: You want a coal saver; that is, a grate that gets all the heat out of a certain amount of coal and no heat wasted.

All of the above we claim for our Knox Grate and this, coupled with the fact that it is of a very artistic pattern, makes it one of the most attractive and desirable fireplaces for the price that is on the market at present time.

We quote grate complete with Summer Front from the fact that grates, as a general rule, are in use only about five months out of the year, and for closing up the fireplace when grate is not in use nothing is prettier or more attractive than an artistic Summer Front. Should Summer Front not be wanted with the Knox Grate, deduct $1.00 net from prices given where plated finish is specified or $.75 net where grate is specified to be in black finish. Summer Fronts are always sent unless otherwise ordered.

We quote no fire brick or top tile with grates as these articles are a common commodity, such as can be bought in almost any hardware store at a less price than our customers can afford to buy and have delivered from us, for they are very heavy freight. However, when wanted, we will furnish these articles, F. O. B. cars Knoxville, Tenn., at $1.10 per setting; that is $.60 for twenty fire brick and $.50 for one top tile.

Our customers will note that with a number of mantels the grates are listed in black finish. This is not a cheap black varnish like used on many low priced grates but it is a handsome wrought iron finish and is generally taken with these lower priced mantels. Where plated finish, however, is wanted instead, add $1.00 net to price given, or where the grates are quoted in plated finish and the black finish is wanted deduct $1.00 net from prices given. We will always send grates in finish that is quoted with mantel, unless otherwise ordered.

KING MOUNTED GRATES.

No. 1. King Mounted Grate.

Outside dimensions, 24½ inches wide, 30¼ inches high.

Size of grate, 20 inches.

This is our famous King Mounted Grate which is built together all complete in one piece and sets in the fireplace just like a stove. Has heavy tile back and sides, double draught dampers, slide in both fire front and ash screen, shaking and dumping bottom and many other desirable features. We guarantee the grate in every sense of the word and it is beyond doubt the heaviest and best pattern of a mounted grate on the market today.

When the King Grate is wanted instead of the Knox, add $9.00 extra net for the No. 1 size as shown above, or $10.00 extra net for No. 2 size as shown with No. 466 Mantel. We also have this grate in 24-inch size as No. 3 and will furnish instead of the Knox Grate at $11.00 extra net.

Either plated or black finish sent, according to mantel with which grate is ordered, and summer fronts are always sent unless advices to the contrary are received.

About Our Tiles.

We offer best quality tiles for hearth and facing, any color, by which we mean that our customers may make their own selection of colors and that the tile we send will be first quality and no seconds. We emphasize this particular point, knowing that first quality tile cannot be sold at a lower price than we quote and under no consideration will we handle seconds.

One color of tile should be used for both hearth and facing and the hearths may be had either with or without border as preferred. Embossed tiles for facings are extra and prices will be quoted on application. The principal colors carried in stock are green, rich brown, mottled onyx in all colors, sky blue, old rose, old gold, cream, etc. Kindly state preference when ordering.

We do not recommend that tile facings be slabbed, for this is simply an unnecessary expense, and a more satisfactory job should really be secured by putting up the facings from the loose tiles. However, where our customers feel that they must have this work done, we will slab the facings for cost of material, labor, extra boxing, etc., which will be from $2.50 to $4.00 per facing, depending on the size of same. Tile hearths are never slabbed in any case.
